Works in Progress

Book Chapter in Preparation

Huth, F. and Cardoso de Moraes, C. "Lobbying Regulation in Argentina: Regulatory Gridlock and Interest Representation".

Chapter for a volume on lobbying regulation in Latin America edited by Manoel Leonardo Santos, Springer.

Article in Preparation

Huth, F. "Conjunctures, Mechanisms, and Estimators: The Case for Methodological Pluralism in Comparative Politics".

Compares the historical-comparative design of Collier and Collier (1991), Schmitter's (1971) case study, and Acemoglu et al.'s (2001) statistical design using instrumental variables.

Research Project in Progress

"Informal, Yet Visible: Digital Wallets and Financial Inclusion without Labor Formalization".

Examines when the digitization of informal earnings expands financial inclusion and when it leads to household over-indebtedness. Uses a comparative mixed-methods design combining Global Findex and ILOSTAT data, cross-national regressions, and typical and deviant cases selected from model residuals.

Ongoing Research

"When Construction Stops: The Suspension of Socio-Urban Integration Projects and the Peronist Vote in Argentina's Low-Income Neighborhoods (2017–2025)".

Uses a difference-in-differences design to estimate the causal effect of halted socio-urban integration projects on the Peronist vote in Argentina's low-income neighborhoods.
